CSI INDIANAPOLIS CHAPTER, EDUCATION FOUNDATION, INC. 2014 MEMORIAL TRUST SCHOLARSHIP IN MEMORY OF JOHN C. FLECK, FCSI

ABOUT CSI:

The Construction Specifications Institute (CSI) is a national individual membership technical society founded in 1948. CSI seeks to enhance communication within the non-residential building design and construction industry. CSI members include architects, engineers, specifiers, interior designers, contractors, building owners, facility managers, and product manufacturers and representatives.

ABOUT THE INDIANAPOLIS CHAPTER:

Chartered in 1961, the Indianapolis Chapter CSI is the one of the largest and most successful chapters of the Institute. The Indianapolis Chapter has granted scholarships since 1991, with annual awards ranging from $500 to $4,000.

ABOUT THE FOUNDATION:

The CSI Indianapolis Chapter, Education Foundation, Inc., is a tax-exempt 501(C)3 charitable organization chartered in 2010 by the Indianapolis Chapter for the purpose of furthering the educational goals of the Chapter.

ABOUT JOHN C. FLECK, FCSI (1925-2013):

John was a successful Architect and construction industry leader. He was a Charter Member of the Indianapolis Chapter CSI and served as Charter President (1961-62). John was elected National President of CSI in 1973. He was later honored by being advanced to Fellow of the Institute and to Distinguished Member. In 2010, John served as the first President of the Education Foundation.
